Geo. & I this A.M. walked over Ches. R. marsh in end, and over Camb. Cemetery - we saw a flock of some 20 meadow Larks which passed us as we were on the Cemetery ridge and alight out on the marsh. With in places we could make out one good starting with dark purple glossy feathers as we advanced this bird & one other rose, whirled off & alighted on the top of a tall tree on the edge of the Cemetery from fly out of sight. The other about 200 & started themselves all meadow Larks. They flew over the river - Vide finery for list

Meadow mouse -

Meadow Lark

Flock of about 20 whirled past us and alighted out on the marsh. As we drew near they rose & flew over the river.

MEMORANDA

Starling

As we were looking at the meadow larks through my glasses from the Cemetery ridge we saw a Starling with them a close by. As we approached, he was accompanied by another one and both flew rapidly to the top of a tall tree on the ridge and soon flew from there out of sight.

— Brown Thrasher —

I saw a Brown Thrasher at 2.30 P.M., on the grounds of Mrs. Henry, just inside the wire fence separating the estate from Prof. F. W. Putnam's. I stood with Prof. Putnam on his back steps and we viewed the bird with our glasses.
It was about 40 ft off running about on the ground under some hawthorn, spruces.
After a few moments it flew in a spruce and disappeared for the time.
Prof. Putnam has been observing it & feeding it for about 3 weeks.
It makes harsh, raspy, etc.

Gr.-crowned Flycatcher
- Cloudy -

This P.M. at 6.25 as I was just entering Appleton St. from Lowell St. I heard the long drawn whisper of the Gr. Flycatcher

Flycatcher evidently from Miss Blatchford's place - I heard it but once - Miss B. heard what was evidently the same 2 or 3 days ago.
